First Order of Business – Land Search
Posted by Ursula on October 12: Wow, is it October already? Just a brief update on what has been happening with respect to the land search in the past several weeks. We've been having weekly phone calls to divvy up work, keep the momentum, and discuss options. Regular attendees have been myself (Ursula), Mike Kelly and Jill Nado. Last week we were also joined by Micheal Chen, Bryan Boru, Marty Wolf, and Jami Lynn Murrell-Rexrode We've turned up 3 properties that might work. SO far none of these are perfect - some have cost issues, some date issues, some have accessibility issues, (etc) so we are still looking for "the one". But I am confident we will choose one soon, and get on with the planning! We've also called/visited almost a dozen other properties and have a few more on the list to contact. Some we've crossed off the list, some we are still reaching out to. So the search is still happening. --- Last week's highlights: 1. Looked at a property in central Delaware that might work. It has hosted 3000 camper events, but it is really close to civilization. The owner is willing and offering a fair price It's currently on the MAYBE list.

2. Engaged with a property owner in Schuylkill County, Pennsylvania. Looking very promising - no one has burned there before! Site visit this weekend.

3. FARM H300S. - Still having conversations on this possibility 300 acre Farm in Southern Delaware.

4. FARM K20S - Another farm in southern Delaware, smaller, offered for our use by a burner. Still playing phone tag on this one too.

FWIW:

Previous properties R137K, L100K, Woodlands are not longer options - these did not work out for various reasons.

This week's action items:

1. Site visit to Schuylkill County property

2. Call Nanticoke to investigate use of their PowWow site in Southern Delaware

3. Call on the Punkin Chunkin Venue

4. Chase down paperwork, references for landowners.

5. Follow up with the other Delaware sites: H300S, K20S, and the Central Delaware campsite director.

Holding bin:

1. Post/Writeup a vision for PDF and its future greatness. As Millie asked: What do you WANT PDF to be?

2. Make another ART Of PDF video

3. Get some interest in updating the PDF website. We're looking long in the tooth, esp in comparison.
